Peer Recovery

Hope for the Future

Peer Recovery provides recovery support services to community members to find, maintain, or strengthen their path of recovery. It also provides these services to support families who have a loved one in recovery. Peers can offer hope for a full life based on their experiences with recovery from substance use or mental health challenges. Rather than telling you how or what to do, we support, encourage, and empower your choices and work from a place of shared experiences in recovery.
